All the Cemeteries have been in the care of D. J. Warren the past year.

The committee have endeavored to do what was considered most needful. The gates to all the cemeteries have been newly painted, stakes procured to put in place of those decayed, also continued the work of preparing the addition to the cemetery on the Plain, for the use intended, by plowing, taking out stumps and roots, gathering together and burning them; the work is not yet completed, though well begun. The expense incurred, above money on hand, is $35.67, for which the Committee will ask an appropriation. The wall next the highway will need relaying in the very near future. The wall around the addition to the cemetery on the hill, for which the town voted one hundred dollars, is under contract, and was begun in the fall by A. E. Simpson, who will resume and finish the same in early spring. All the rocks and boulders that could be seen within the limits of the addition to the cemetery have been taken out. The land should be plowed, leveled and prepared for future use, which will require a small appropriation. The old part of the cemetery has been grubbed over, cleared of all visible brush roots, fertilized, and seeded down to grass, and whether grass or mullein will dominate, remains to be seen, perhaps neither of the above, but sorrel may come in and take possession of the ground. The expense of the above was paid from money contributed for that purpose.

A well has been dug on land of Mr. Taylor, near the cemetery, (by his permission and approval,) at considerable expense of labor and money contributed by those interested in the care and appearance of the cemetery. It is the purpose of those interested to take the water into the cemetery by syphon, or other way, for the use of any who may wish to water plants or lots.

The object is a worthy one, and the Committee commend any effort put forth to beautify or improve the cemeteries.

Respectfully submitted,

SCHOOL REPORT.

In compliance with the "Public Statutes" the School Board present to the town this, their eighth annual, report under the new school law.

We were fortunate in securing good and efficient teachers for our schools, and we believe the progress made during the year will compare favorably with former years.

NUMBER ONE.

This school was in charge of Miss L. T. Carlton, of Derry, for the year, who has taught this school successfully for several terms in years past, and her former reputation as an earnest and devoted teacher was fully sustained. Very commendable improvement was made, and the closing exercises each term were listened to by a goodly number of parents and friends.

NUMBER TWO.

The first term was taught by Miss Alice G. Wheeler, of Methuen. This school is composed mostly of quite young scholars, and many of them live a long distance from the school house, but there were five perfect in their attendance. Miss Wheeler is an energetic teacher; and excellent order was maintained throughout the term. At the close, the school gave evidence of having made good progress in their various studies.

The fall term was taught by Miss Mabel B. Stevens, of Derry. The school was well governed in a very quiet manner and good improvement made. The teacher readily gained the love and esteem of those under her care, With more experience we believe she will become a most excellent teacher. A third term of four weeks was in charge of Martha S. Oviatt, of No. Salem.

NUMBER THREE.

Miss Georgietta W. B. Knight, of Londonderry, was teacher of this school both terms. This teacher has the happy faculty of readily gaining and retaining the esteem of all her pupils, as a natural result the school was easily and well governed, and made very good advances in the various branches attended to. The complete charts and the black boards were much used and with great benefit to the whole school. This school contains many excellent scholars in arithmetic; ample evidence of this was shown on "school day" at the town hall, Oct. 20.

The closing review both terms was very creditable to teacher and scholars. Twenty-five persons, mostly ladies, evinced their interest in the school by attending the closing exercises the last term.

NUMBER FOUR.

The spring term was in charge of Miss Josie B. Clark of this town. As several of her scholars had recently been her school-mates, it was more difficult to maintain as good order as is desirable for the best interests of the school.

The closing examination showed that much had been accomplished.

The fall term was under the care of Mr. J. O. Coddington, of Westminster, Vt. Mr. Coddington is a very thorough scholar, and well fitted to instruct others, and labored earnestly for the good of the school, and was quite successful in his efforts.

NUMBER FIVE.

Both terms were in charge of Miss Martha S. Oviatt, of No. Salem. As she had taught this school one term the previous fall no time was consumed in ascertaining the disposition and standing of her pupils, so real earnest school work commenced at once. "Onward and upward" seemed to be their motto and it was not lost sight of. This school has a few older and more advanced scholars than any other in town. We expected good advances in the studies pursued and were not disappointed. The closing exercises of each term were very good, and attentively listened to by a goodly number of the district and others. Several nicely drawn maps were exhibited the last day and attracted much attention.

NUMBER SIX.

As the town last spring voted to raise but one dollar for schools above the requirements of the law, in place of four hundred raised the year before, the board thought our schools would be short unless the number of schools could be reduced.

We therefore proposed to unite No. six with No. two school; and engaged Mr. Warren to carry those who could not walk to No. two. But the parents evidently being more anxious to have their own way, than to have their children educated, refused to send, or allow them to be carried, consequently they remained at home.

Miss Lettie M. Wood, of Auburn, commenced a fall term of school at No. six Sept. 5, but as the children had been out of school more than seven months, they had evidently forgotten much they had previously learned, and also lost all desire to learn, the teacher was unable to create much interest for several weeks. The school closed Nov. 24 for a week's vacation.

FUND SCHOOLS.

NUMBER TWO.

The fund school was a continuation of the third term of town school and was five weeks in length. It closed on a very stormy day; and only four scholars were present. Recitations in history, physiology and geography were very good. Some of the scholars displayed much skill in drawing maps.

NUMBER FOUR.

A fund school of three weeks was also taught by Mr. Codding. The closing review occurred on a stormy day. The scholars seemed to understand well what they had learned and the review was quite satisfactory to the two members of the board who were present.

NUMBER SIX.

This school commenced Dec. 4, and continued six weeks, in charge of Miss Wood. Commendable improvement was manifest and the closing exercises were quite good. We consider Miss Wood an excellent teacher.

REMARKS.

Fortunate indeed would it be if we could fully realize the great need and importance of a good practical education. President Tucker, of Dartmouth College, in an educational address recently delivered at Manchester said:—"Education to-day gives us a power of perfect utility, as it is possible by this means to train the mind into a means of earning a livelihood. A practical education fits one for a career of great usefulness. Education widens the plane of activity of a boy or a girl, for it can be seen with a little thought that the smaller a person's education, the smaller number of opportunities he has, while the more extended the education which a person has, the wider is his horizon and the larger the number of his opportunities. To a well educated man, there is no position within man's natural power which he cannot fill."

A good education was thus defined by Hon. Edward Everett:—"Read the English language well, write with dispatch a neat legible hand, and be master of the first four rules of arithmetic, so as to dispose of at once, with accuracy, every question of figures which comes up in practice, and if you add the ability to write pure grammatical English you have an excellent education. There are the tools. You can do much with them, but you are hopeless without them. They are the foundation, and unless you begin with these, all your flashy attainments, a little geology and other ologies are ostentatious rubbish. Lay the foundation well."

Teachers should exercise more care in filling out the registers. It is your work and no one else can do it for you. The irregular attendance of many of our school children continues to be a serious fault. We believe parents are very largely responsible for this great evil. If you wish your children educated you should see that they are at school every day, if possible, and in good season, and remain until the close of school at night.

The most of our school houses are in good repair on the outside, but No. 2 needs new desks and seats, and No. 3 should be enlarged, or a new house built in its place. A coat of inside paint would make all our school houses more pleasant and attractive.

The teachers should see that the school-room is kept comfortable, instead of hot, and that there is plenty of fresh air the year round.
